

Miss Wende's January Newsletter

This month we will be learning about the letters H, I, J, and K. We will also be focusing on the season of Winter. Our first week back from winter break is H week. We will introduce the idea of animal habitats as well as hibernation. For our alphabet book the children will be identifying different animal habitats.

Arctic habitats of the polar lands.

Our third week will be focusing on the letter J. We will do some gross motor activities to include jumping through an obstacle course with hula hoops and little rugs and having a treasure hunt to find "jewels." The last week, K week we will learn about kangaroos and talk about how all kids are special.

Reminders: There is no school on January 18th as we are not in session for Martin Luther King Day.

We will also celebrate our Buffalo winter by making snow pictures painting with white paint on dark blue paper. The second week will be talking about the letter I. The children will learn about ice and igloos and Arctic animals that love icy environments

January book list

Animal Hibernation
Animal Babies in Polar Lands Three
Snow Bears, Footprints in the Snow
How to be a Happy Hippo
The Hiccupotamus.